AMENDED REPLY TO PHH OPPOSITION TO DEBTORS' MOTION FOR CONTEMPT FOR VIOLATION OF THE AUTOMATIC STAY AND DISCHARGE INJUNCTION, FAILING TO COMPLY WITH A COURT
ORDER AND THE CONFIRMED PLAN AND FOR DAMAGES
INCLUDING ATTORNEYS FEES AGAINST CREDITORS, SHELLPOINT
MORTGAGE SERVICING AND OCWEN LOAN SERVICING, LLC

COMES NOW, Debtor, Melani Schulte ("Schulte" or "Debtor"), and files this Amended Reply to PHH Mortgage Corporation ("PHH"), successor to Ocwen Loan

1 Servicing, LLC (“Ocwen”), Opposition to Debtor’s Motion for Contempt for Violation
2 of the Automatic Stay and Discharge Injunction and Failure to Comply with A Court
3 Order and the Confirmed Plan and for Damages including Attorneys Fees against
4 Creditors, Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing (“Shellpoint”) and Ocwen Loan Servicing,
5 LLC (“Ocwen”) for the property located at 1392 Echo Falls Ave., Las Vegas Nevada
6 89123.

8
9 I
10 Argument

11 PHH list five reasons to deny Schulte’s motion. First, that the motion was not 12 mailed directly to PHH. Second, Schulte not shown she has made every payment.
13 Third, the automatic stay terminated upon confirmation. Fourth, Schulte has not 14 specified damages. And fifth, Ocwen did not violate the discharge injunction. As
15 shown below, none of these arguments warrant denial of the requests in Schulte’s
16 motion. To begin with, even though PHH was not directly mailed Schulte’s motion
17 it did receive it and filed an opposition. Thus, this argument is irrelevant.
18

19 PHH’s first reason is moot as it has obviously received Schulte’s motion and 20 filed its opposition. The second reason posited by PHH, whether Schulte made every 21 payment, fails on two fronts. One, it is a red hearing and not relevant to whether
22 PHH violated the automatic stay, confirmed plan, discharge injunction and Court
23 Orders. Besides, PHH provides no proof Schulte did not pay on the mortgage.
24

25 In addition, PHH tries to argue the parties APO was superseded by Schulte’s
26
27

1 confirmed plan. But, the Confirmed Plan does not state that the APO was
2 superceded. In fact, the two orders can be harmonized. Especially, when the
3 Stipulation for Adequate Protection specifically stated “Commencing 10/1/2010
4 Debtor shall make regular monthly post-petition payments to secured Creditor in the
5 amount of $708.60 and continuing on the First day of each month thereafter . . .”
6 (Dkt.#703, p.2, ln.5-7) (Emphasis added). Thus, the APO was an ongoing obligation,
7 not a temporary order.
8

10 In line with that paragraph, the parties Stipulation added “The Debtor shall 11 timely perform all of their obligations under Secured Creditor’s loan documents as 12 they come due, including but not limited to the payment of real estate taxes,
13 maintaining insurance coverage, . . .” (Dkt. #703, p.2, ln.14-16). And noticeably absent
14 is a requirement that Debtor make these ‘payments to Secured Creditor’ directly, as
15 is stated with the mortgage payments. Besides, nothing states or indicates the APO
16 is nullified upon plan confirmation.
17

19 Third, PHH argues it is not liable for any damages because the automatic stay,
20 the discharge injunction terminated upon confirmation and the discharge entered
21 after it transferred the loan. But, PHH cannot have it both ways, either, PHH violated
22 the stay, discharge injunction or both.
23

24 Fourth, PHH seeks dismissal alleging Schulte has not specified damages. In
25 the process, besides Schulte’s Declaration addressing some actual damages, Schulte
26 mentions, she has requested an evidentiary hearing to determine the full extent of 27
28

1 damages. In addition, Shulte's Declaration lists an estimated $25,000 in attorneys
2 fees that she has paid to prior attorneys attempting to resolve these issues, before
3 hiring her current attorney (Mot. Dkt.#1334, Ex. '1', p.82). And fifth, PHH argues
4 it did not and could not violate the discharge injunction because it transferred the
5 loan servicing prior to discharge. The problem with this argument, is that Ocwen still 6 sent improper collection communications to Schulte postconfirmation and
7 postdischarge.
8

10 Finally, PHH argues laches, because Schulte "waited 10 years to bring the 11 motion" (Opp. p.8, ln.1). But PHH serviced this loan as recently as six years ago
12 (2015), so its not a ten year wait by Schulte. Besides, there is no statute of limitations
13 on violations of the stay, discharge injunction or violations of a Court Order. Instead,
14 it is PHH that forfeited and waived any argument regarding whether Schulte had to 15 pay any escrow account (taxes and insurance) directly to PHH. "Forfeiture is the 16 failure to make the timely assertion of a right; waiver is the intentional
17 relinquishment or abandonment of a known right." Hamer v. Neighborhood Hous.
18 Servis. of Chicago, 138 S. Ct. 13, 17 n.1 (2017); see also United States v. Depue, 912
19 F.3d 1227, 1232 (9th Cir. 2019)(en banc). Here, during the five year time period PHH
20 serviced the loan, in conformance with the parties agreement and Court Order,
21 Schulte paid the escrow directly. Now, almost six years after transferring the 22 servicing of the loan, PHH makes its laches argument. In sum, PHH presents no
23 valid opposition to Schulte's motion for contempt from proceeding forward.
24
25
26
27
28

II
Conclusion

PHH's opposition does not provide a basis to deny Schulte's motion or from the Court scheduling an evidentiary hearing in this matter.

DATED this 9th day of June, 2021.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED:
